Danbury Forest Bridge Opening Set for September 8th

The Fairfax County Park Authority will officially open the newly constructed Danbury Forest Bridge and trail near Lake Accotink in Springfield, VA on Saturday, September 8, 2007 at ceremonies slated for 2:30 p.m. The bridge provides improved access from Danbury Forest Drive to the Cross County Trail located within Accotink Park.

The $315,000 project was constructed by Cube Construction Corporation of Great Falls and includes an asphalt trail, board walk, pedestrian bridge and related site improvements. The project was completed earlier this summer and is considered a significant improvement to Lake Accotink Stream Valley Trail by local trail users.

The public is invited to join officials for brief remarks, followed by refreshments. The ceremony will take place at the trailhead location at Danbury Forest Drive and Lonsdale Drive. Parking will be available at King's Glen Elementary School.
